Through exercises and simulation models, you'll experience the long-term side effects and impacts of decisions and comprehend the ways in which performance is tied to structures and policies. The course will introduce "systems thinking" as a response to the rapid changes in technology, population, and economic activity transforming the world, and as a way to deal with the complexity of today's businesses. Executives will be able to use the system dynamics method to design policies that lead their organizations to high performance.
