As some modules of the program take place in the United States, it is recommended that participants who will need a visa to travel apply early to allow sufficient time for visa processing formalities.

Our programs are built for impactful learning, with mandatory in-person modules at the heart of the experience. These sessions go beyond networking—they are designed for hands-on learning, expert-led discussions, and deep dives into key concepts that shape the program. To ensure a truly immersive experience, an essential portion of the curriculum is delivered in person, and successful completion of these in-person sessions is required to earn the certificate. All program components are conducted in English. Participants must have a strong working proficiency to successfully participate in the program.

Note: Admission to the program is at the sole discretion of MIT Sloan. Applications are reviewed on a weekly basis, and completed applications can be submitted before the deadline. Applying early improves your chances of being accepted into the program.
